-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Peterson et al. Peterson et al disclose an e-commerce support system comprising a web server to which each retailer makes an access via a terminal over a network (see col. 3, line 28 through col. 4, line 2); a database storing data for required functions (see, for example, col. 16, line 66 through col. 17, line 10); and an application server to establish each of the functions by using the stored data (see, for example, col. 44, line 40, through col. 46, line 2). Peterson et al further disclose a table for storing membership numbers assigned to customers and membership identification numbers assigned by the e-commerce supporting system and a certificate server to authenticate the customer (see col. 33, lines 37-54).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Peterson et al. Peterson et al disclose all of the limitations detailed in paragraph 2 of this Office Action. Peterson et al additionally teach a running management function (see col. 45, lines 5-15); a charge and settlement function (see col. 32, line 40 through col. 33, line 7); and a delivery function (see col. 6, lines 16-41). Peterson et al do not teach a shop creation function. However shop creation functions are common in the art, and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a shop creation function with the invention of Peterson et al to aid a vendor in creating a web site to increase sales.

Peterson et al also fail to teach that each function is put into a module. However, modules are common in the art, and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ modules so that the functions may be easily updated without negatively impacting other parts of the system.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Shim, Wittsche, and Gershman et al disclose e-commerce support systems.
